Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The overall impact of all current planning applications in the area should be taken into account when considering the application it is on Green belt land which has not been released the A227 is the access a very busy road in and out of Mephram this is likely to increase with the lower Thames Crossing the occupants of a further 150 houses will provide additional danger in the use of the surrounding roads the access proposed would provide danger to cars already using a tiny rural lane

Kind regards
