

I am sorry to keep contacting you, re the above planning application.

I am just very concerned about [REDACTED] parking spaces. I had a friend try their car, which is a lot bigger than mine, and no way would they get through a gap of just over 6ft, especially with brick walls either side.

Also the light to [REDACTED] kitchen & bathroom would be severely cut, the way the sun moves around.

Looking around the close all houses have at least one designated parking space, if not two or three.
