Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The proposed redevelopment is in the middle of a residential area, on a very busy main road. Parking is already a real problem along this stretch of Wrotham Road, with cars routinely parked on pavements, causing problems both to pedestrians and to the flow of traffic. This will only be made worse if this redevelopment is approved with increased footfall and traffic from both customers and from deliveries. There are concerns too about the proximity of the new restaurant to Woodlands park which is a popular play area for children. This seems at odds with the Governments current plans to protect children from fast food advertising - what bigger advert is there than the outlet itself, close to a children's play area.

Kind regards
