Reasons for comment:

Comments:	From what I understand, the plans have taken into account key considerations such as traffic flow, parking provision, noise levels, and hours of use. These issues are central to ensuring that the development integrates sensitively with the surrounding residential area, which this application appears to have addressed. The location is easily walkable for many local residents and well-served by public transport. As someone in the transport trade, I believe this reduces reliance on car travel and aligns with the council's goals to encourage more sustainable movement patterns.
