Reasons for comment:

Comments:	Having lived at my abode for over 30 years [REDACTED] 50 years, the amount of traffic that's been generated up and down Brimstone Hill is far too much for this narrow lane to contend with. I understand part of the grounds of The Haven is in an area of outstanding natural beauty, as I am myself, and therefore I object to this latest application in view of The Haven's previous planning successful applications and the buildings that have been erected there. To erect a further two dwellings on that site would I feel be detrimental to this lovely area and would set a precedent for other applications. A further planning application for an erection of a dwelling on land adjacent to my property, opposite the Haven, was also granted earlier last year. Too many dwellings in too small an area of Green Belt land.
