Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Good quality farmland should not be sacrificed for dwellings in this crowded area of the country. Utilities for the village have been stressed by its growth since the second world war and this plan, in conjunction with other large developments currently proposed, would stretch them even further. The A227 is the main route through the village from the A2 in the North to the A20 in the South and it has changed little for over a century. Although adequate for traffic in 1930, it would not be classed as an 'A' road today. Even now rush hour traffic is often at a standstill and more vehicles needing to access the A2 will add to the bottlenecks.

Kind regards
