| Comments:            | This proposed house would add to the already fabulous Bowesden Lane. The plot has had no purpose for many years and this would breath life into it. The increased traffic would be negligible, especially considering this cul-de-sac used to be a busy through road. Shorne is an important village for many people who need easy access to London and the M2. I see no negatives, only a sympathetically designed house in a discrete location. |

Kind regards
