Commenter Type:	Neighbour
Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I object to the application and the amendments submitted to increase the size of the housing units and to the increase in three bedroom units. No consideration has been taken to increase the available parking on the site given that there will be more residents and therefore the the need for more car parking. The amendments will have a negative impact on traffic in the area, parking in the wider area, pollution (air, noise, light). Insufficient evidence has been provided as to how the developer intends to protect the privacy of existing houses from the development. The developer is cramming more and more residents onto the site and the new proposals do not show any regard for residents living around the site, and their right to privacy.

Kind regards
