Reasons for comment:
Comments:	It has been a joy watching the progress of the build which has been done with much care and consideration to the environment and to the neighbor's. (Unfortunately this has not always been appreciated but it has been very well thought out with all good intentions to everyone) The buildings have been sympathetically built to fit into the landscape The family have been seeking advice from the outset on what plants and species they had in their garden and they have moved established plants to return and have seeked advice on ensuring once they can complete the build that the garden can continue to work with the vast biodiversity and encourage wildlife into the garden and have already proven with the build that fruit and vegetables are grown and maintained by the family who take such pride and share the joy in Furzy Lea. It would be tragic if this project could not be completed.

Kind regards
