Description of Proposed Works

Please describe the proposed works

I am currently in the process of having the Coach House roof repaired (on a like for like basis) due to a collapse in the front wall above the doors causing the roof to spread and bow. When the roof was removed to rebuild the broken wall it was found that all the wood apart from the window frames and the main Coach House doors contained woodworm so will be removed and destroyed. That wood had been painted pink by the previous owners of the property.

Rather than paint the new wood pink in accordance with Conservation area rules, I am applying for permission to return all the woodwork to its original black (evidenced by that being the first paint colour under the historic layers of paint on the wood) and return the stable door to a proper one rather than the basic shed door that has been installed.

Has the work already been started without consent?

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.
