Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I am writing to support the local takeaway business on our road. A so-called resident knocked on my door and recently stopped me in the road, urging me to object to the business, saying I should in so many words lie and complain about smell, litter, and parking in front of my garage (which I don't even have). As someone who lives on the same road, I can confidently say that I've not noticed any increase in litter, smell, noise or more than usual parking. I really don't understand why there's a vendetta against this business. In fact, everyone I've spoken to is pleased to see this shop operating rather than sitting empty. It's helping to bring life back into the shopping parade, providing hot food right on our doorstep and creating local jobs. This business is a positive change for the community. I encourage you to come and have a look and see just how baseless these objections are. I support the takeaway and hope the council sees the clear benefits it brings to our area.

Kind regards
