Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I live in a neighbouring village. My GP surgery is in Meopham and it is extremely difficult to get an appointment, this development will only make it worse. The roads around Meopham are not suitable for a large amount of traffic due to the width of the roads, speed limit and size of junctions. The levels of pollution will rise with the additional traffic, queuing and sitting idling in our country lanes. This development would lead to the loss of quality farm land which is Greenbelt land, not 'greybelt' as it has not been developed before. It will mean Meopham will lose its village status and become another area of urban sprawl. Surely instead of building houses, more effort should be put into building sheltered housing for our aging population near decent amenities and services rather than building houses in a rural area that does not have sufficient transport as it is. I strongly object to this development as Kent is being ruined by overdevelopment. The Garden of England? More like a giant car park!
