Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I object to this application for the following reasons. The local infrastructure is not adequate to cope with this number of new homes, with existing applications the increase estate by 20%. Southern Water have already commented as such. Istead Rise does not the infrastructure to support this quantity of additional housing. The Doctors surgery has already stated that they are at full capacity and have no capability to take on more residents, and I have no faith in fairy tale promises from developers to somehow provide the extra medical professionals. This is also the case for the local primary school which has turned away children from Istead Rise due to lack of places. This puts more traffic on the roads at busy times. The proposed traffic access feeds into a quiet area (The Drove Way) and then in turn the junction to Istead Rise is busy and difficult for pedestrians to cross. The extra traffic will make this dangerous and will most definitely require traffic calming measures and/or pedestrian crossings. Once this additional traffic manages to leave Istead Rise, it will join queues on the A227 and New Barn Road during busy periods adding to congestion. The proposed development is on land currently used for farming. Farmland should not be built on purely for the short-term gain of developers to make excessive profits selling houses targeted at people from outside the local and therefore not benefiting Gravesend residents at all.

This proposal has all the appearance of a tick box exercise to say Gravesham have built 'x' houses!

Kind regards
