Reasons for comment:

Comments:	The work being undertaken has been done tastefully for the use of the owners of their own private garden and is in keeping with the properties in the area. The new proposed landscaping is needed as there is such an incline on the ground and it will make it more assessable for the owners and safe to use. The new fence is very nice, green metal so it blends into the surroundings, is not intrusive and new trees planted along to help visually. Importantly it makes it safe for their nice dog to stay within their own garden and is therefore a necessity. It seems everything has been thought out and done respectfully, tastefully and in keeping with the surroundings area and properties. It is nice to see older properties being redone for modern and younger living styles.
