Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I object to this planning application on the grounds that the site would not accommodate the amount of dwellings, comprised of static homes, touring caravans, a building and presumably parking too. Access onto Pear Tree Lane would be dangerous for caravans to come and go, holding up traffic and causing delays. How would the number of caravans be controlled? How would the people in the day room be limited? Where would they park? It could quickly deteriorate into a muddy mess in bad weather and would become an unpleasant and unwelcome site in a quiet residential area. The green belt has already been violated since one static home was maneuvered with great difficulty onto the prepared site some while ago before planning permission was obtained.

Kind regards
