Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This is another piece of our green belt being eaten into...maybe a forerunner for houses. Anyone tampering with the hedgerows, especially at this time of year, should be severely dealt with. I fear that retrospective planning will come into play. Whoever has applied for this, should be told that our green belt is sacrosanct and they cannot just clear the land because they want to. Please consider refusing this and protecting our wildlife and natural woodland, no matter how small it may seem. We are facing so much destruction with the Lower Thames Crossing having been given the go ahead, so we need to hold onto what we have with both hands.

Kind regards
