Reasons for comment:
Comments:	My husband and I recently moved from SoleStreet Cobham [REDACTED] ne year ago and had lived there for 17 years. I really wished this had been proposed back then as I think it's a lovely natural business to have in that area and will only support the natural beauty for local people and the many walkers that frequent Cobham. It would enhance British Agriculture and in our opinion be a far better view than a housing estate would be which has always been concern for local people., we still frequent the village on a weekly basis and would welcome and look forward to such a beautiful natural business. How anyone could object to the spectacular view of vines growing in the local area is beyond me. Always a possibility of jobs for local people? Win win in our view.

Kind regards
