Reasons for comment:

Comments: This area of natural beauty is being targeted to profit from more housing. The area itself is a small village with small village amenities. The area will become overrun and cause chaos as we have seen with similar villages.

Kent itself is increasingly growing in built up areas, and those areas are increasingly suffering as a result of over populating. We would no longer have a village and the area will loose it appeal.

I strongly object to these houses being built in this area and would hope people would see the effect that building upon small areas on country side has negatively impacted other similar areas.
