Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I severely object to the planned building of 120 houses on Longfield Road. The road itself is quite dangerous, especially in heavy rain as it floods extremely easily. Access onto this road, is completely ridiculous because of the hills and the speed of the drivers. Also at one end you have all the traffic to/from Meopham Parade, with two schools, one a special school where children are unable to walk to and at the other end you have a railway bridge which is extremely narrow and very difficult when used by large vehicles. A very dangerous idea which will undoubtedly result in accidents. This is completely unacceptable. Probably why it has never been built on in the past!! There is also some sort of lorry park on Longfield Road, which, at times, completely halts all the traffic along the road as they are trying to enter or exit their park. It is time that sensible suggestions as to building houses and where are made, rather than picking large green spaces where there is not thought as to the surrounding roads and neighbours.
