Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This is plot rich farmland. Once built upon it can never be reclaimed. It's lost forever. We need to keep our farmland for future generation so the country can provide its own food in a situation of adversity. We don't know what the future holds for them. The farmers are only selling the land because of the latest governments inheritance tax rules. The site is right next to a Special needs school. The contance disturbances due to the coming and going of lorries and the noise would be very disturbing for them.  The number of houses and potentially double the number of cars is totally unsuited to the area which has a knock on effect on health and the local doctors are finding it almost impossible to cope with even now.. *It's a narrow road which finds difficulty, even now, to cope with heavy lorries going to the weigh bridge at Green Street Green. *IT'S GREEN BELT. Green belt was designed to prevent urban sprawl as well as providing the lungs for London. Recent Television Programmes have shown how essential Moss and Trees are in combating carbon Emissions. Keep our Green Belt.

Kind regards
