I believe this should be allowed change of use as there are other meeting places within harvel that accommodate for the local people and have done for years
The village hall holds many events at which alcohol can be consumed and does the cricket club and as many locals only used the pub once or twice a year it is clearly not viable as a business
I looked through some of the objections and spoken to local people and this really does seem to be a personal attack on the current owners more than what is good for the village
Not having a pub there is only a good thing as when it was open it encourage people to drink and drive due to its remote location and even locals would not walk on most occasions so having less drink drivers on the roads is only a good thing

Kind regards
