Reasons for comment:

Comments:	This area is a beautiful area but has become busier in particular the A227. This road will be affected when the Thames Crossing is open as it will increase in traffic coming from the M20. It already is prone to traffic issues when the local motorways are blocked. This development of 350 houses will certainly add to the build up on this road (I just live off it). This area is so beautiful and off rural character. It's green belt for a reason. This reason hasn't changed so it shouldn't be built on. Especially when there's building land in Gravesend that has been sitting, unused for decades.
