This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Date (must be pre-application submission)

07/05/2024

The pre-application made clear that the details that were submitted by the applicant would likely result in refusal as a result of the poor design and unsuitable materials. The officer then went on to state that if the pergola was fixed to the current garden level, was not excessive in height with no enclosure and constructed with good material it may not be contrary to the Development Plan. Further details need to be submitted due to the change in levels between the dwelling and the rear garden for it to be considered for approval.

It was made clear the applicant could re-submit a pre-application for further advice.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
