Reasons for comment:

Comments: All roads, whichever route is taken, to the site are narrow and single track. These large trucks would go past the local primary school where the road gets very congested at certain times of the day. Opposite the site are stables where horses are ridden along the road 2/3 a day. The area is also popular with cyclists and walkers. Should another large vehicle come from the opposite direction there is no where to make any negotiation.
This is a very rural area not suitable for large HGV vehicles to drive on.

Kind regards
