Reasons for comment:

Comments:	This will be another housing project that is being developed in an already densely populated area with very little infrastructure supporting additional homes in the area, such as schools, hospitals, doctors and roads that provide entrance/exits in the village. Obviously from a strategic marketing point this area has been considered financially, as to being of value due to the respect and class that has been built by reputation over many years. Until further civil services have been provided to support the south east area in general or even roads leading between Kent areas to be added or widened, another housing development should not be considered, given that the south east is already stretched to its limit.
