Reasons for comment:

Comments: I object most strongly to this retrospective planning application, which yet again makes a total mockery of the planning system as applied to "Land South of White Post Lane". The 'taking over' one of the fields, originally described as being for retired horses, laying asphalt for 8 mobile homes, erecting fences, tapping into a water feed, all has been undertaken and occupied, without regard for the Planning Laws.

This site, along with adjacent plots to the west, has been the subject of multiple enforcement actions over the years, including a High Court Injunction which prohibited the use of the total site for residential purposes. Only partially revoked at the last planning enquiry.

As a local resident, we have endured more than two decades of repeated planning applications, appeals, enforcement failures, and total disregard for the injunctions. This latest retrospective application represents yet another attempt to 'play' and exploit the planning process, and I urge the Council to take decisive action to prevent further erosion of our precious countryside within the Green Belt.

It is obvious that the occupation of the land is by those who have no respect for the law or the correct use of the Planning System. This retrospective planning application represents yet another attempt to circumvent planning laws and cynically exploit the planning/enforcement process.

I most strongly oppose this application.

Kind regards
