Reasons for comment:

Comments:	350 new homes on this site is surely not a sensible idea due to many reasons. I list the main ones below:- <ul style="list-style-type: none">- it would create a dangerous environment from a road safety aspect. The A227 and surrounding roads are not able to cope as it is and this would bring these roads to a standstill and there aren't any alternative routes that provide a diversion.- parking at the parade of shops is already totally overwhelmed and I believe is already referred to as an accident black spot- school time traffic will not cope and this could make families walk to school which obviously create more pedestrians and there is not any safe places to cross and so increased accidents/deaths are inevitable- the required infrastructure is not available - the hideous increase of people will put too much of a strain on all local, and not so local, amenities such as hospitals, medical centres, schools, local transport, trains to London... the list can go on- last but certainly not least. I live in Meopham because it is a pleasant village to live in as there is a mix of required amenities but also areas of greenery that are essential for humans and wildlife. These proposals will severely damage our Greenbelt and the way in which people wish to live.
