Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I am concerned about the high volume of traffic the new house will generate with potentially 2 cars per household, also the lorries and construction vehicles and likely road closures while the roads and access points are being reconfigured. The access to the schools is already dangerous for school children on the junction by the shops as this area has a high volume of traffic and I can only see it making it worse. There will be noise and pollution from the additional traffic and I live very close to the main road. The additional demands on the doctor's surgery will make it impossible to get an appointment. I moved from London prepared to pay the higher travel costs to have fresh air, green fields and a quieter, safe environment, I will lose both of these. I also object to the green belt being relabelled grey belt as this is not true, the land has been farmed and cannot be recognised as redundant farmland.
