Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I cannot see any reason why this should be rejected as at least 80% of the road already have hard standing to the front of their property. [REDACTED] the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] had theirs approved, this application should cause no contention. It will also mean less cars parked on the road for those few that need a parking space who do not have the option to park on a hard standing area at the front of their house. I fully support this application.
