Reasons for comment:

Comments:	My daughter lives in strand close so I know how bad the parking is at the moment, although you have stipulated there is parking for these flats they certainly will not be enough with people visiting . There is definitely not enough parking at the moment with people having more cars and no garages it it very hard to push a pram along any other road roads surrounding strand close and the road itself without having to walk in the road , I know as I have pushed a pram with a dog around these roads. The speed people drive around these roads with no concern for pedestrians or other car drivers is very dangerous. Adding more cars will undoubtedly make it worse. The height of these flats will surely invade the privacy of the surrounding houses and they are certainly not in keeping with the properties in the area.
