Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This site is high grade agricultural land used for food production and given the current threats to our food security it needs to be kept as such. Any development with access via Longfield Road would pose a huge danger to pedestrians and vehicles alike, this stretch of road is narrow and frequently congested due to traffic waiting at the schools. There are many brownfield sites within the borough and until these are fully used for housing development then no permission to build on any agricultural land should be given.

Kind regards
