Reasons for comment:

Comments:	A High Court injunction has been breached. The order prevents anyone from using the land for the siting of caravans or mobile homes. In addition there has been major criminal damage to the greenbelt. The council must enforce this order & remove all illegal dwellings immediately. The greenbelt must be protected to preserve and maintain the environmental integrity of an area. Illegal dwellings lead to habitat destruction, loss of biodiversity, and disruption to local ecosystems. Greenbelt land is specifically set aside to prevent urban sprawl. Illegal development erodes this protection, leading to uncontrolled expansion of urban areas, which strain infrastructure and public services. This illegal activity affects the character and quality of life in the surrounding communities, including traffic congestion. The consistent failure of Gravesham Borough Council (GBC) to enforce the injunction is unlawful so therefore it must be actioned immediately.
