Hi

The roof pitch as shown is accurate as the dimension to the ridge from ceiling joists was taken after being in the loft for the measured survey. There are no plans to provide residential accommodation at a first floor level. Windows have been added to provide light in the loft as it has a good storage space. Clearly, there is potential for loft residential accommodation should anyone wish to make an application in the future. The applicants/owners do not need any further accommodation other than applied for, in this application.

Many thanks

ROGER
