Reasons for comment:

Comments: In December a very large Mobil home was placed on this land without any planning permission. Trees either side of the road, it was transported down, were cut and destroyed and debris left. The land has an injunction preventing it as residential use yet this is being totally ignored. There are a number of vehicles on the land. The surrounding woodland is being cut down. Rubbish is being burnt and quite where there toilet waste goes is anyone's guess. People walking the lane have been shouted at, and a caravan has been dumped In The lane and then Set of fire. The neighbourhood is feeling quite unsafe. How are people allowed to ignore the rules and simply set up home on green belt land without any consequences. ?The council have been aware properties being on this land since July 2009 yet do not enforce any restrictions. If this is allowed to continue I fear more caravans/mobile homes will be situated on the land without any proper sanitation, waste collection etc and they pay no money for living there as we have too. The situation is untenable and should not be allowed to continue. The council needs to act now by refusing the planning application and the travellers should not be allowed to appeal over and over again whilst destroying the land they have taken over.

Kind regards
