Reasons for comment:

Comments:	The original planning application increased the size of this property a lot - since then it has been increased on other occasions The owner has recently removed all the trees and has now started parking cars at the front of the site - [REDACTED] [REDACTED] extending the building will also do this - in the original planning application this was not supposed to happen Since the vets has been opened light pollution has increased and adding to this property will increase this as well - this owner does not consult us on any changes and frankly doesn't care about the impact this has on his neighbours- I object also on the basis of green belt restrictions on building , damage to the environment locally through increased traffic and wild life - the area next to the vets has been weed killed and left barren so that he can build a car park on this land - which has been refused- however extension of the building will strengthen his need for more parking Thank you for reading this
