Reasons for comment:

Comments: My son attends Helen Allison school which is next to the proposed site. The school is purposefully located in a quiet rural location, the building work that would have to take place and then the presence of increased traffic and residential homes would be completely disruptive and harmful to the students at the school. In addition there is already issues with parking and traffic and the introduction of more traffic here would be overwhelming. I am also concerned for the environmental impact on nature in this area. This area is a home for nature and we can't keep killing off our green spaces.

Kind regards
