Reasons for comment:

Comments:	Three aspects of this proposal are of particular concern to me and my family as Meopham residents. 1. It would destroy prime agricultural land. In a country already heavily dependant on imports to feed its population, at a time of global instability, that would be the utmost folly. 2. It would create sprawl by fusing two quite separate villages together. Meopham and Sole Street have been separate settlements since at least the fifteenth century. I have lived in both and each has a different character. It was my understanding that the planning authority wished to preserve the separate character of the villages in rural Gravesham. Surely, there must be less destructive options if Green Belt really has to be released to meet housing targets. 3. It would greatly increase the population of the village where the infrastructure is already under strain. [REDACTED] and have lived in Meopham for [REDACTED] years and in the Borough for [REDACTED] years. [REDACTED] rely heavily on the NHS. Already the ratio of patients to doctors here is the worst in Kent. While provision for a primary school and a "Local Centre" are envisaged (is this just wishful thinking by the developers?) it is essential that growth in the village population is accompanied by expansion in NHS services. Otherwise the needs of people like us are being ignored.
