Reasons for comment:

Comments: Every time a hospitality venue is converted to residential, a community asset is lost forever. It is a disaster for the local community. People that genuinely want to run businesses in hospitality are priced out as the speculators are able to bid more on the likelihood of conversion to c3. Perhaps if this was prevented, the true market value of hospitality venues would not be in line with residential and therefore would find a level where a business could continue to thrive.

Kind regards
