Reasons for comment:

Comments: Norwood Lane is very narrow with the surface in a very poor state of repair, how can it cope with an extra 300+ cars?

There will be these cars trying to access the A227 alongside the cars from the further 2 developments. Green Lane is already too narrow in the region of the telephone exchange to allow two cars to pass comfortably. Morning afternoon and evening gridlocks will be inevitable.

Quality farmland will be destroyed. The country cannot afford to loose this valuable land. Local food production is vital to stop imports and keep prices down.

There will be a massive increase in traffic on the A227 already over stretched esp at peak times. Side roads and country lanes are not adequate to cope with modern traffic in terms of numbers and size of vehicles. The road surfaces are in a desperately poor state and will only continue to deteriorate.

Public transport services (bus/train) are poor now and won't cope with an increase in passenger/commuter numbers.

Local medical services are dire now how will they manage a potential increase in Meopham's population by one third?

Surely this is greenbelt land is it not protected from these type of building projects?

Kind regards
