Reasons for comment:
Comments:	My brother attends view school and this building is in their land. This means that he won't benefit from understanding nature and the building will kills the local wild life. I'm only young but I plan on living in with my children in the future. This isn't a city it's a village. Getting rid of green belt land will mean there is no nature and wild life for children to study in the future. Public transport is awful so this will mean more cars crashing on the Wrotham Road. New houses should be build where there are already transports schools and doctors.

Kind regards
