| Comments:            | Yet another money making development on our green and pleasant land. This is destroying our heritage and history along with effecting wildlife and the local eco system. I appreciate the need for homes but there are sufficient brownfield sites still available in the area. I suppose they don't want to build executive homes in these sites! If we need housing in the UK then let's look at every brownfield site and build regular family homes on these sites rather these money making executive developments. I could suggest they build this development on the site of the old maternity hospital building in the center of Gravesend as it's been derelict for years. |

Kind regards
