Comments:	As a visitor to the area, I love the idyllic scenery and the rural landscape. I was so upset to learn that such an immense structure is proposed in such a prominent position. I don't think that the noise of a bottling plant would be at all suitable in the quiet landscape. Closer to the railway line would at least minimise some of the impact, both visually as it's lower down as well as the noise levels, as trains go past already.

Kind regards
