To who it may concern

This letter is to confirm that the Thames Valley Archaeological Services unpublished report 16/174 for the archaeological evaluation at Dalefield Way, Denton, Gravesend, Kent, produced in September 2016, revealed no features or finds of archaeological interest, and therefore the area of the site that was evaluated is considered to have no archaeological potential.

The results and conclusions of the above report are considered still valid at the date of submission of this letter
