Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This is not in keeping with the area at all. A high court injunction has been breached already which shows you the total disregard for the law. There has been wreckless criminal damage to our country side at this location and trees destroyed. Its disgusting and I hope that these persons will face the full force of the criminal justice system for destroying our beautiful countryside without any regard for the rest of the community. I raise strong objection against this monstrosity so does every other resident in the area. There is a high court injection!!!!m why has this application even been put in. I am objecting in the strongest possible terms

Kind regards
