Reasons for comment:

Comments: My view same now as when the temple erected the fencing without permission and the fence was erected within the boundary buffer zone contrary to the original plans. I have no faith in the temple sticking to any planning permission guide lines. This unsightly fence will cause devaluation on my property as it looks like I'm living in a prison camp. I'm also concerned about weeds climbing the entire height of the fence not being maintained and blocking out my light. After all residents are inconvenienced enough during the temple festivals by blocking off access to residence properties.

Kind regards
