Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I strongly object to there being a change from greenbelt to a traveler site, the people involved have already moved in caravans and buildings in total disregard of the injunction in place they have continually thumbed their nose at the police, local authorities and the residents in this area there will full destruction of numerous trees in nurstead lane has changed a once pretty country lane into an area of devastation to the degree that I can no longer bring myself to drive down it. How has this situation been allowed to continue as we speak more fences are being erected.
