Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I wish to object to the proposed build of 150 houses west of Norwood Lane. We already have more people in this area than local facilities can cope with. We have to wait weeks to see a doctor and dread having to go to A&E or to need any sort of hospital appointment. We also have far too much local traffic. Often, I cannot get out of the end of the road where I live because of the traffic is nonstop across the end of it. You cannot park at local shops, with cars being dangerously parked out of the frustration of being unable to pop into a local shop. Locals try to not go out at school dropping off and picking up times because the school runs block the roads for any other traffic. The only main road we have is the A227, with all other local roads being narrow and mainly country lanes, causing chaos when the A227 is impassable for some reason. Along with the constant heavy-duty traffic we now have on these small roads life becomes more and more difficult. We definitely cannot accommodate more housing with thousands more people and more cars in this village. We may need more houses in this country, but they should be built along with new hospitals, new GP surgeries and new schools away from small villages, not crammed on to already overpopulated villages causing all the problems that arise when too many people live on top of each other. Presumably these proposals to build new homes so close to other housing is for financial reasons. It seems to be without any consideration for the wellbeing of the people involved. I am devastated at the thought of the loss of yet more vital beautiful green spaces and the truly valuable farmland which is also so necessary for the good of this area and our country.
