Reasons for comment:

Comments: In the Outline Habitat Management and Monitoring Plan there is an image with a rather crude red outline drawn to show the area of the development.

There are many tall trees that seem to have disappeared from the photograph both at the rear of the plot and adjacent to it. In fact, in reality they surround the end of the site. These

I suggest that the photograph used is inaccurate, maybe 10 or more years old, and is therefore misleading. Can I further suggest that rather than use this photograph in consideration
