Reasons for comment:
Comments:	We have to get full planning permission just to change certain aspects of our homes such as front doors, brick , cladding etc yet somehow homes will be allowed to be built on greenbelt will this mean all owners of a home within the greenbelt will be able to build?. The parking at school pick up/drop offs and events is a nightmare with the main road being parked on right outside this area , it will result in school parents parking in this proposed development along the main road and blocking all through traffic including school buses , huge farm machinery which uses the route etc.

Kind regards
