Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I do not think a residential street should have a children's home in it. I am concerned for the elderly residents and young families with children residing in our street already. If they are housing troubled children, we can expect disturbances at inconsiderate hours and problems with anti-social behaviour. The other major issue we have in our street is parking. With staff and visitors to the property, we can expect to find it much more difficult to park in our own street. I also do not think a change from a dwellinghouse should be accepted as this leads to other properties having a precedent to also change from a dwellinghouse. This is a quiet residential road and should stay as such. Thank you,

Kind regards
